

CEAM Control Equipment - © www.ceamgroup.com

Notes about the Copyright

To be able to benefit the warranty, the technical assistance service, the upgrades, and all the other optional services, it is necessary to register the software, which can be done in the following ways:

Fax: writing out the fore-printed module which is inside the package, and faxing in to the number (+39) 0571 924505

Email: writing out the electronic module which is inside the product CD, and mailing it to the E-mail address: info@ceamgroup.it

Internet: writing out the apposite module which is On-Line at the technical support address: www.ceamsupport.it

We remind that the realised product, is, and remains an intellectual property of CEAM Control Equipment s.r.l. which we will call CEAM, even if it is given for using at a determinate or indeterminate time, missing the specific written limitation from CEAM, the product is given for using at indeterminate time.

The product is protected by the actual laws about the Copyright, of which it is the absolute owner CEAM.

The using license of the product provides the use by the single fiscal subject who bought the using right, and its installation can be made on a single computer.

The product cannot be modified in any part, and can be used only with CEAM products, any different use, not authorised in writing by CEAM will be punishable by law.

The complete contract with the using conditions, are published on the CD of the product itself, and with CEAM, and will be completely accepted if you proceed to the installation and the use of the product. If you do not accept the condition, it is necessary to inform quickly CEAM providing in deleting and destroying of the product in each its part.

Over the warranty period, to extend the assistance service, it is possible to underwrite a service contract, which can be structured Ad-Hoc on the specific necessities, for further details, please contact our customer service.